PRESTON Rowe Paterson has formed an exclusive strategic partnership with mainland China's largest valuation group China Appraisal Association (CAA).

PRP directors Greg Preston and Greg Sugars returned this week from Shanghai following the formal signing ceremony, which was attended by representatives from around China.

CAA employs over 1,500 staff and operates from 18 key regions throughout Mainland China including all key centres including Beijing, Shanghai, Guangzhou, Shenzhen, Nanjin and Wuhan. Whilst valuation is a relatively young profession in China, CAA has taken a market leading position through its innovative use of technology.

RPR has 22 offices in Australia and six offices in New Zealand.

PRP's CEO and national director Greg Sugars was thrilled with the new partnership.

"We look forward to being able to better service our corporate clients needs throughout China with our new partners.

"Demand for valuations for Australian and New Zealand companies has steadily grown as they invest in industrial and manufacturing facilities in China. Likewise we will be able to assist CAA clients throughout Australasia with their valuation and property consultancy needs," Sugars said.
